DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. This Office Action is in response to applicant's amendment dated April 19, 2004 in response to PTO Office Action dated March 25, 2004. The amendments to claim(s) 1-7, 14-19, 29, 31-33, 35-37, 39-41, 43 and 44 and the addition of claims 45-48 have been noted and entered in the record, and applicant's remarks have been carefully considered resulting in the action as set forth herein below.

2. Applicant's arguments filed April 19, 2004 have been fully considered but are not persuasive.

3. Regarding applicant's argument that "register storage format of 8 bit pixel values, as taught by Nadehara, is distinct from the storage of color components of a second color component type and a third color component type in a packed format, as required by claim 1", applicant's attention is drawn to the col. 9, lines 5-25 wherein pixel values of the predicted picture and the generated picture are stored into the main memory are performed. Pixel value in itself is a color component type and it is not disclosed in an isolated or abstract form. Therefore, the storage of pixel values is not different or distinct from color components. Nadehara-Chow combination provides for improved efficiency of fetches from the memory. Chow reference is clear in putting forth the advantages afforded by storing plurality of color components in both the planar and packed format (col. 3, lines 25-35; col. 4, lines 24-67; col. 7, lines 1-56).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claim(s) 1, 2, 5, 6, 14, 15 and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. Patent No. 5,907,500 to Nadehara in view of U.S. Patent No. 6,326,984 B1 to Chow et al.

a. Regarding claims 1-2, Nadehara discloses storing pixels in a packed format (col. 9, lines 5-20) and motion compensating of packed format (col. 9, lines 29-35). Nadehara fails to disclose storing the plurality of color components in the mixed format of planar format and packed format. Chow discloses storing plurality of color components in both the planar and packed format (col. 3, lines 25-35; col. 4, lines 24-67; col. 7, lines 1-56). Therefore, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time invention was made to modify the device as taught by Nadehara with the feature “storing plurality of color components in the mixed format i.e., planar and packed format” as taught by Chow because it improves the efficiency of fetches from the memory.

b. Regarding claim 5, it is similar in scope to claim 1 above and is rejected under the same rationale.

c. Regarding claim 6, it is similar in scope to claim 2 above and is rejected under the same rationale.

d. Regarding claim 14, it is similar in scope to claim 1 above and is rejected under the same rationale.

e. Regarding claim 15, it is similar in scope to claim 6 above and is rejected under the same rationale.

f. Regarding claim 17, it is similar in scope to claim 1 above and is rejected under the same rationale.

Art Unit: 2676

- g. Regarding claims 45-48, Nadehara as modified by Chow implicitly discloses color component types Y, U and V (col. 3, lines 24-35).
6. Claim(s) 4 and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. Patent No. 5,907,500 to Nadehara in view of U.S. Patent No. 6,326,984 B1 to Chow et al. as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of U.S. Patent No. 6,078,690 to Yamada et al.
- a. Regarding claim 4, Nadehara-Chow combination does not disclose wherein at least one of the plurality of color components of the image are sub-sampled in a dimension of another color component of the image as one of a 4:2:0 space, a 4:2:2 space, and a 4:1:1 space. Yamada et al. discloses such sub-sampling (...color difference components...are subsampled by a factor of two...this format is referred to as 4:2:2...col. 5, lines 10-15; col. 6, lines 44-48). Therefore, it would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to modify the device as taught by Nadehara-Chow et al. with the feature "color difference subsampling" as taught by Yamada et al. because it provides for conversion of image data without causing degradation (col. 6, lines 17-21).
- b. Regarding claim 19, it is similar in scope to claim 4 above and is rejected under the same rationale.

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claim(s) 29, 31-33, 35-37, 39-41, 43 and 44 allowed.
8. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: Prior art fails to disclose a motion vector and a reference frame stored in the mixed format of the packed format and the planar format. Prior art does disclose motion vector and reference frame usage but does not suggest the combination where a motion vector and a reference frame is stored in the mixed format as disclosed per independent claim(s) 29, 33, 37 and 41. Dependent claim(s) 31 and 32 dependent from independent claim 29; dependent claim(s) 35 and 36 from independent claim 33; dependent claim(s) 39 and 40 from independent claim 37; dependent claim(s) 43 and 44 from independent claim 41 and similarly include subject matter indicated allowable.

Conclusion

9. Applicant's arguments have been fully considered but are not persuasive. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
